Q1 Read the passage and answer the following questions:-

Have you ever walked through cloud of gnats on a hot summer, only to have them follow you? No matter how you swat at them, or even if you run, they won't leave you alone. If so, then you have something in common with an atom. Atoms are the building blocks of molecules, which when combined, make up everything. Technically we can't see individual atoms, since there are no microscopes powerful enough. Even though scientists cannot see atoms with microscopes, they have developed ways to detect them and learn about them. Atoms are made up of three basic parts; protons, neutrons and electrons. The study of atoms and tiny particles that are even smaller is called quantum mechanics. Scientists still have much to learn about atoms.

An English chemist and mathematician,John Dalton was the first person to scientifically prove that matter consists of indivisible discrete particles called atom.Dalton developed an atomic theory in 1803.Subsequently,Ernest Rutherford,a famous scientist of Briton developed a modern concept of the atomic structure.
