Q1 Read the passage carefully and answer the following questions:-

Rabindranath Tagore (1861-1941) was the youngest son of Debendranath Tagore, a leader of the Brahmo Samaj, which was a new religious sect in 19th century and which attempted a revival of the ultimate monistic basis of Hinduism as laid down in the Upanishads. He was educated at home; and although at 17 he was sent to England for formal schooling, he did not finish his studies there. In his mature years, in addition to his many –sided literary activities, he managed the family estate-a project which brought him into close touch with common people and increased his interest in social reforms. He also started an experimental school at Shantiniketan where he tried his Upanishadic ideals of education.

From time to time he participated in the Indian nationalist movement. Tagore was Knighted by the ruling British Government in 1915, but within a few years he resigned the honour as a protest against British policies in India.

Tagore was a polymath, poet, musician and artist from the Indian subcontinent. He reshaped Bengali literature and music. Author of the “profoundly sensitive, fresh and beautiful verse” of Gitanjali, he became in 1913 the first non-European to win the Nobel Prize in Literature. National anthem of India and Bangladesh were also composed by him.
