Q1. Read the passage carefully and answer the following questions:-

Flurry was a little lamb. He was very weak and small because he ate little. He lived with his huge family in Mr. Pinto’s farm.

One day, Mr. Pinto came to meet the flock of sheep with tears in his eyes. He said “Sorry friends, but you will understand that I am too old. I cannot look after such a huge farm. I am going away to spend my life with my grand children. I will miss you all.”

Then Mr. Pinto picked up Flurry and hugged him. He carried him to Mr Paul, the new owner and said, “This is the little lamb I was talking about. He is Flurry. He doesn’t eat much. Please take special care of him.”

Mr Pinto left. The next morning Mr. Paul came to say good morning to everyone along with his wife. Mrs. Paul brought some more companions..... a family of pigeons, a litter of kittens, a herd of cows, a brood of chicks and formed a big family. She observed that Flurry was sad and sitting alone in a corner. She patted him and said, “Don’t worry little one, If you will eat properly and become strong. I promise you, I’ll convince Mr Pinto to return to the farm and stay with us.” Flurry started eating everything with interest and realized that everything tasted good. Then one morning Mr. Paul greeted everybody and Flurry rose to greet him. He looked very big and strong now.

She throws it really high: "Let's see you catch this".

The sun is in my eyes, where is that ball now?

I've got to spot the ball and catch it somehow.

I'm waiting and waiting. My glove is waiting too.

I'm looking up not looking down. I left on my left shoe.

I'm diving towards the ground. My arms are stretched out straight.

I open up my glove, but I'm afraid that I'm too late.

I can't believe my eyes, I think I see the ball!

It's nestled in my glove, I caught it after all!

I hear my sister cheering. She saw my super catch.

But Fido stole the ball from me. He thinks we're praying fetch!
