Trees are those silent wonders of nature that make life on the earth possible. And yet, everyday thousands of trees are cut down .Trees are a blessing for us in many ways. They give us food, paper , medicines and wood. They provide shade and shelter , not just for humans but for the many creatures who live on them . Trees absorb carbon dioxide and release oxygen and give us cool and clean air. They prevent soil erosion, especially on mountain slopes and hilly areas.

Unfortunately human beings are destroying trees without any thought . The shrinking forest cover is the main reason for global warming .
