- b) Both A and R are true, but R is not the correct explanation of A.
- c) A is true, but R is false.
- d) A is false, but R is true.

1. Assertion (A): Communication is a two-way process.

Reason (R): It only requires the sender to convey the message.

2. Assertion (A): Listening is as important as speaking in communication.

Reason (R): Without listening, the receiver cannot interpret the message correctly.

3. Assertion (A): Non-verbal communication includes written communication.

Reason (R): Non-verbal communication is expressed through body language and gestures.

4. Assertion (A): Encoding is the process of interpreting a message.

Reason (R): The sender converts the idea into a message during encoding.

5. Assertion (A): Feedback completes the communication process.

Reason (R): It helps the sender know if the message was received and understood.

6. Assertion (A): Use of technical jargon always improves communication.

Reason (R): Jargon makes messages easier for everyone to understand.
